How we work

Our Engagement Models

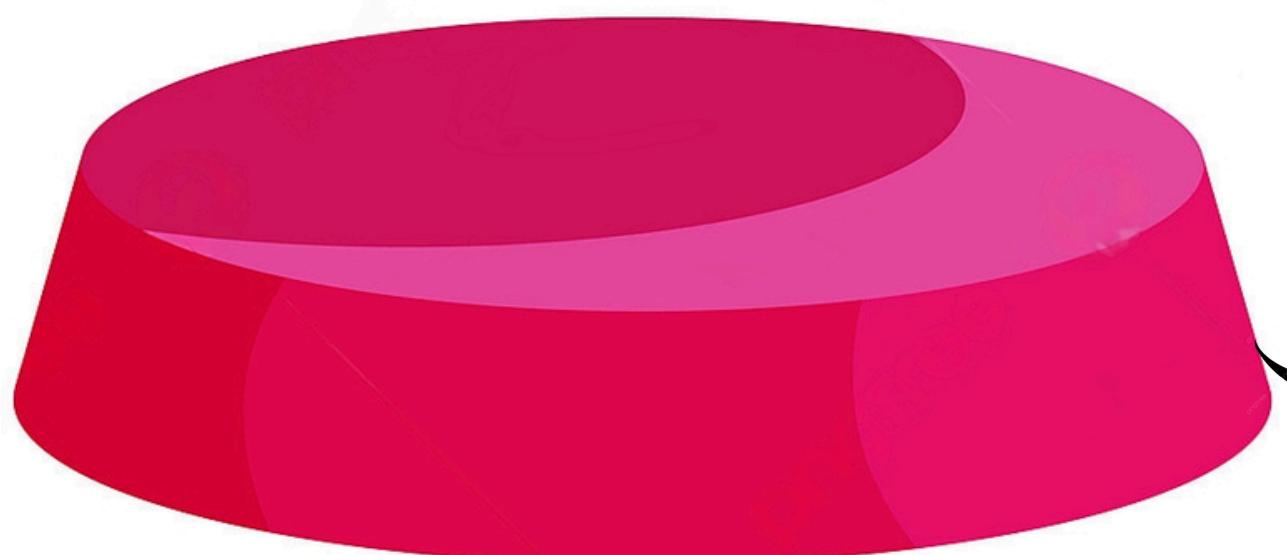

Project-Based Engagement Model

Our project-based engagement model is ideal for clients with well-defined project scopes and timelines. We provide end-to-end management, delivering a complete solution within the agreed timeframe and budget. .

Hourly-Based Engagement Model

The hourly-based engagement model offers flexibility for clients who need ongoing support or have projects with evolving requirements. Clients are billed for the actual time spent on their project, allowing them to adjust the scope as needed.

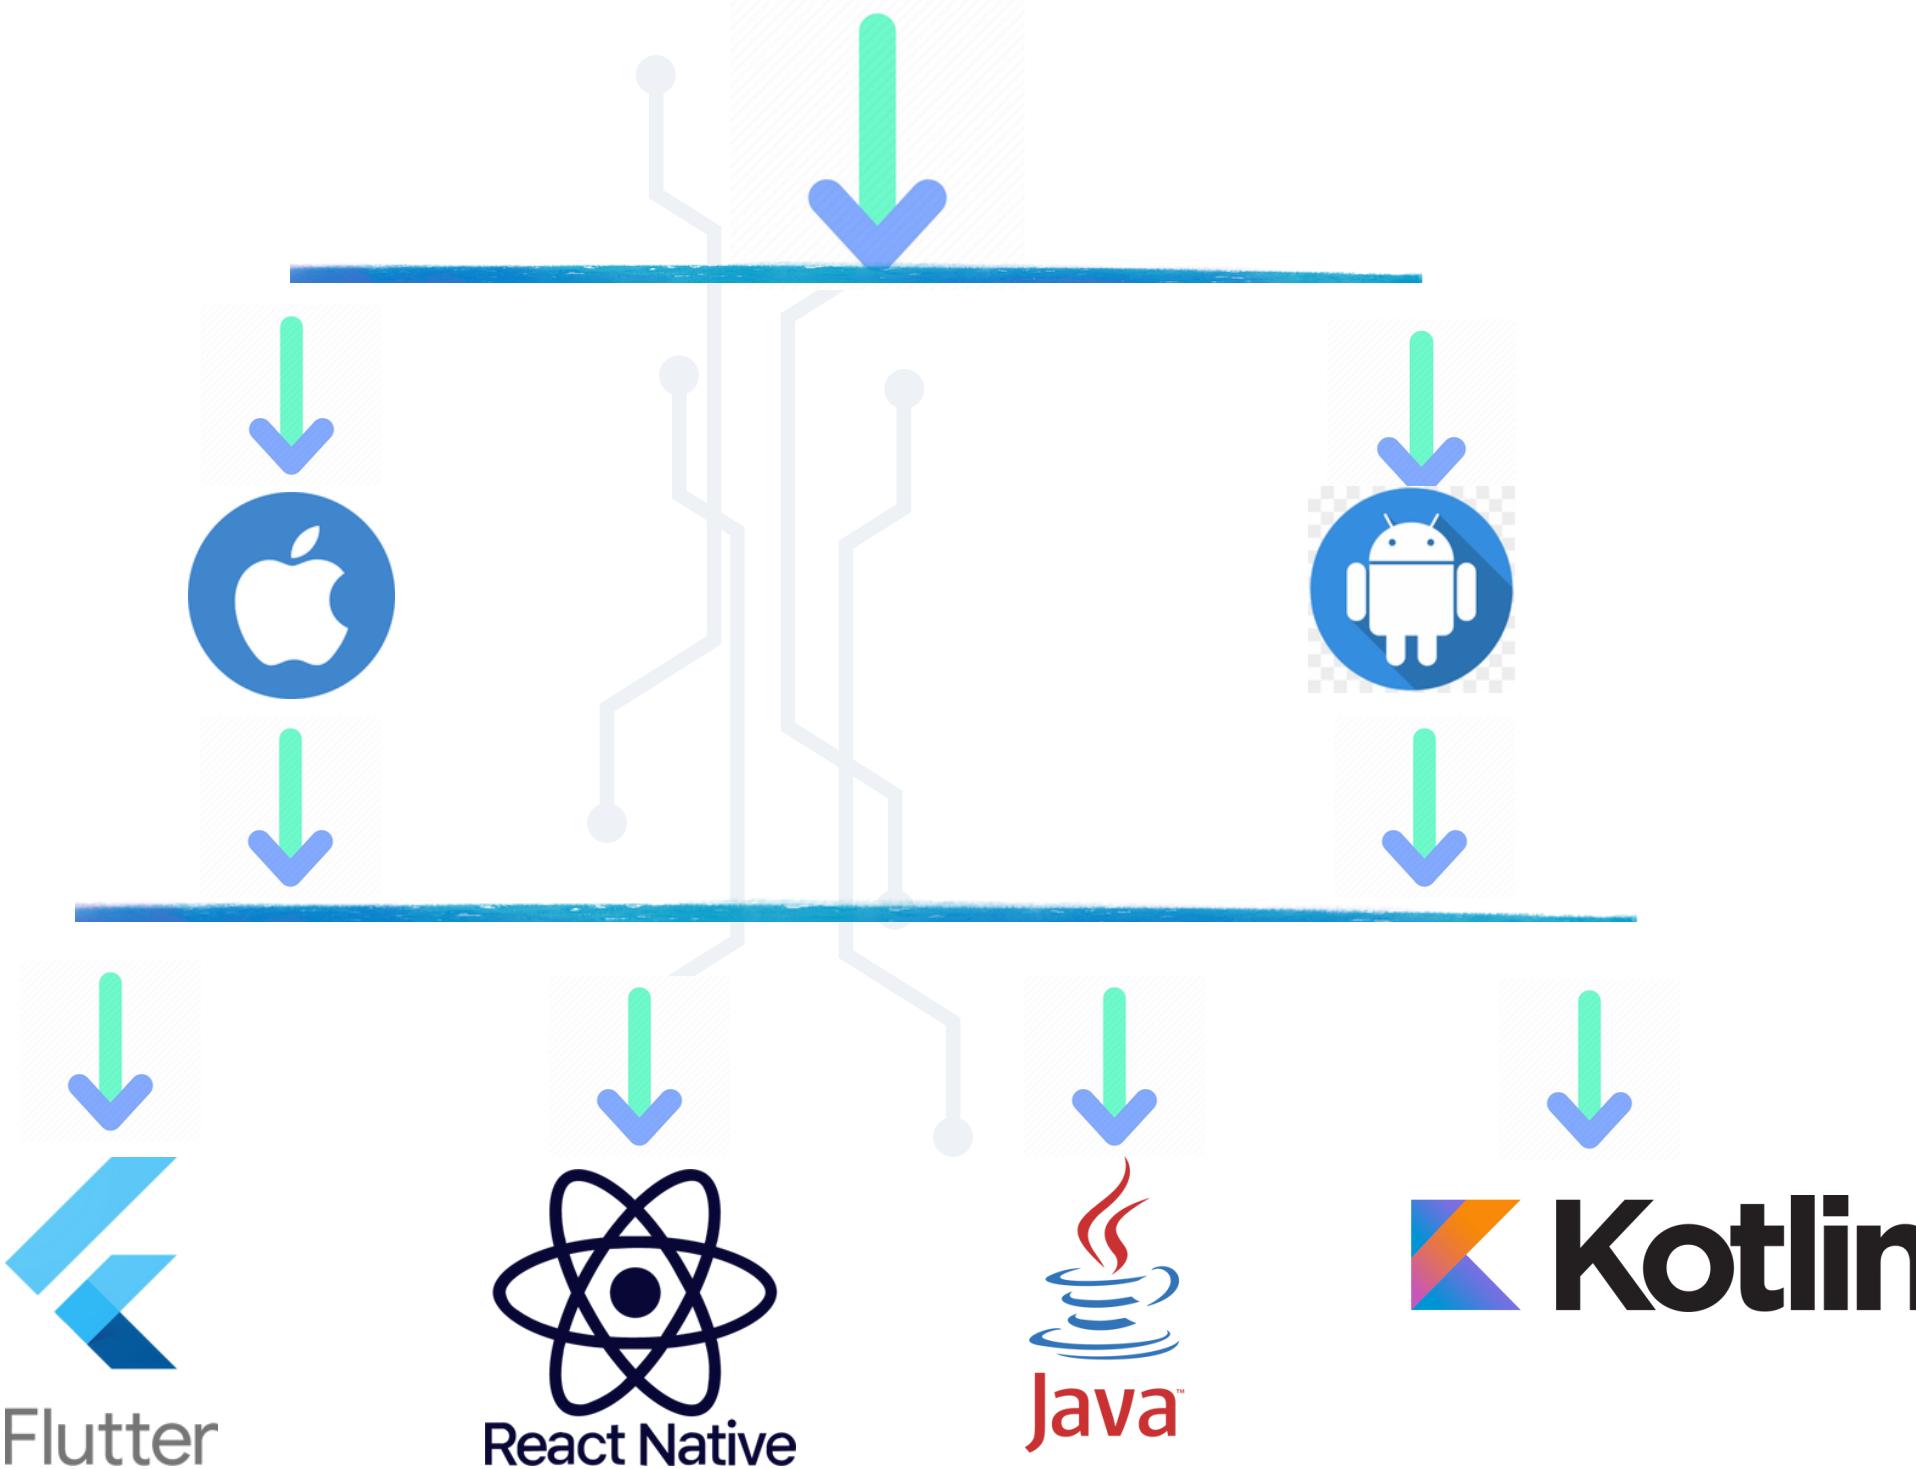

Developer-Based Engagement Model

In our developer-based engagement model, clients can hire dedicated developers who work exclusively on their projects. This model provides clients with direct access to skilled professionals, ensuring consistent progress and a deeper understanding of their business needs.
